Co-Ops Certificate

Judge Turner Clement, sitting at the Pittsylvania circuit court, has admitted to trial the case of the American National Bank of Richmond against D. H. Terry, a Pittsylvania farmer, which promises to be followed with acute interest by members of the old tobacco pool, since the value of the certificates of participation may be said to depend upon the outcome. Judge Clement will call a special term of court to try this test case before Christmas.

Terry, through his counsel, holds that the Richmond bank was negligent in the collection of a $500 obligation secured by a "P. C." The bank holds other obligations of farmers secured by participating certificates of the Tri-State Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Marketing Association, which has passed out of existence.

According to P. J. Hundley, attorney for Terry, "We will show that the American National Bank through its president, Oliver J. Sands, was in collusion with the Agricultural Credit Bank of Danville and the Tri-State directors."

Ex-Gov. Mann

Funeral services for Judge William Hodges Mann, 84 years old, Govenor of Virginia from 1910 to 1914, died suddenly on the 12th instant, when he was stricken by hear t trouble in law office in Petersburg. He was a Confederate Veteran and A. P. Hill Camp officiated at his burial in Petersburg, yesterday. Judge Mann had a number of friends in this county.

Jim Andrews was in the county yesterday as, usual he was talking almost altogether Forest Fire Protection. Jim says "There are a number of counties in Virginia, which have no system of forest fire protection and desire to be organized in the same manner as the 61 counties which are now receiving assistance from the State through The Virginia Forest Service", Jim is very hopeful that the coming Legislature will provide funds adequate for statewide forest fire protection.

The report of a poker game by Convict Forbes at the White House, in which he and Daugherty and Lasker took part has ruined the national game.

Everybody seems quite busy getting in winter wood and killing hogs, getting ready for Christmas.

Rev. J. J. Clark preached a fine sermon at Trinity Church last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. W. E. Moore, who has been on the sick list is better at this writing.

Mrs. Alberta Burge of Appomattox is visiting her son, T. H. Burge, of this community.

Miss Elizabeth Moore has returned home after a few weeks stay at her Uncle's, W. F. Moore, of near Stapleton.

Mr. Robert Moore and family and J. W. Burge, were visitors in the home of Mr. C. A. Moore, Sunday.

If you want to make an old Appomattox boy or girl feel good every week next year just order the TIMES sent on. We'll write and tell them Dad sent it.

R. H. Baber, Sr.

R. H. Baber, Sr., passed away in the 70th year of his age Tuesday, December 6, 1927. Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev Burnett at New Hope Baptist Courch, where he had been a member for many years, and there he was burried in the presence of a large crowd. He leaves to mourn his death, his wife and nine children; J. W. and Richard Baber. of Appomattox; L. R. Baber, Lynchburg, H. T. Baber, of Newport News, Mrs. S. F. Ragland and Mrs. and W. A. Wooten, of Lynchburg, Mrs Eddie Carter, Mrs. J. D. Harris, Mrs. J. L. Martin, of Appomattox County.

The pall-bearers were: J. W., R. H., H. T. and L. R. Baber, S. F. Ragland and J. D. Martin. The flower bearers were his grandchildren.

Dearest Father thou has left us,
We thy loss deeply feel,
But it is God that hath bereft us,
He our sorrows all can heal.
